GAME TODAY.

Midway vs. St. Stephens.

YESTERDAY'S RESULT.

Cornell Company, 3; Navy Yard, 2.

GROUNDS.

First and M streets northeast.

With Rob Roy Mackey leading a loyal bunch of rooters, Navy Yard made a game effort to humble Cornell Company yesterday, but luck was against them, and they were forced to accept the small end of a 3 to 2 score.

From the time the first man was retired in the opening session on a snappy double play, until Buscher fanned the pitcher for the last out, the pace was good, but not very fast, and the large crowd constantly applauding the good plays.

Both Buscher and Becker, the oppositely twirled, had terrific speed, and the majority of the outs were on their infield. The two pitchers also could boast of control, a virtue which rarely accompanies great speed, and only one man was given "the transportation." Becker was responsible for this rift.

Snyder, of the Gunmakers, led both teams in batting with three clean hits to his credit. Had he taken a little more care on the bases, however, the Sailors might have been in a better position in their own column, for twice he was nipped at critical times.

The game was constantly enlivened by the routing of the Navy Yard followers, who cheered every play the Sailors made. Rob Roy Mackey and his room-mate were much in evidence, and at times he had even Billy Betts, the umpire, laughing.

Joe Giebel did not show up for the Sailors and Mills was forced to go behind the bat. Despite his unfamiliarity with this position, and the fact that Becker was using his greatest speed, he caught a fine game and did not let up to him.

Austin Howard, the Cornell University boy, was in the line-up for the Tigers, but had a little difficulty in judging ground balls and was credited with two errors.

The Gunmakers made a game effort in the last inning, when the first two men up singled. The best Buscher would allow them was one run, and even this would not have counted but for a bad throw to third.

YESTERDAY'S RESULT.

No game scheduled.

GROUNDS.

West diamond, Ellipse.

There is no scheduled game in this league on Friday, but today the Auditors and Bookkeepers met. The race so far has proven a walkover for the first mentioned team and the game looks easy. With Simpson in form they should be the unexpected and break up the Auditors' winning streak.

While the league has developed no players that deserve title with last company, the development of Munch, Auditor's crack twirler, has been particularly noticed. The beginning of the season he was considered fair, possessing a good amount of speed and practically nothing else. His improvement has, however, been phenomenal and has acquired curves and control that class him with the best in the circuit. He will probably be chosen to pitch the game against the R. R. Y. M. C. A. team when picked teams from the league meet at the close of the season.

Law Department's next contest is with Triforce, and it will have a tough proposition to stack up against. Terry who has twirled the last few games for Law, is better than probably. His teammates have an aggravating habit of taking a flight when tight work should be done, and in the last game, with three misuses, and in the contest before it was Bowen who did the ragged work.

Treasurers and Operating met in their next scheduled game on Thursday, and it is rumored that Captain Tate will take the box in hopes of staying off defeat, which seems to pursue the money counters.

GAME TODAY.

Woodburn vs. Silver Spring.

YESTERDAY'S RESULT.

Brightwood, 3; Petworth, 2.

GROUNDS.

Petworth, D. C.

With "Dick" Robertson displaying all kinds of speed Brightwood was able to defeat Petworth yesterday afternoon by the score of 3 to 2. It was a well played and interesting game from the start, and a large bunch of real fans were present, who filled the air with all kinds of noise, the cheering of the fair sex being especially noteworthy.

Robertson held his opponents well in hand throughout the contest, and only once did the Petworth boys threaten to get into trouble. He fanned twelve men and allowed only six hits in spite of the poor play of the game. He also did a fine stick, getting two singles, and the same number of runs besides stealing two sacks.

It was a bitter pill for the leaders to swallow.

For five innings Barnes twirled for the losers and managed to send five men by the strike-out route. He was touched up for six hits and passed one. In the sixth Garrett took up the task and proved a little better, fanning only one and allowing three bingles. Each pitcher got two assists to his credit.

Catcher Cleveland, of Brightwood, attracted much attention all during the game. Besides getting two hits, including a two-bagger, which came in the fifth, he accepted sixteen chances in fine style, and stole two bases.

Shortstop Demsey, of Petworth, led his team with the stick, getting two singles and one assist to his credit.

What will undoubtedly develop into a fast game is that one this afternoon between Woodburn and Silver Spring. As the latter team will present its strongest line-up and intends giving the second story champs a hard run for their money.

Brewer, of Peck, proved the hero at the bat, beating out three safe ones in four times up. He also caught a clever game, accepting thirteen chances without a miscue.

A pass, a sacrifice, and four safe hits, netting four runs, put the game away for Sixth in the sixth inning.

Keith was transferred from Peck to Sixth because of his weakness at the bat. Yesterday he surprised his old team mates by driving the ball over right field fence for a home run.

Peck threatened to break up the game in its half of the eighth. After Kiddle and Brewer had hit safely, Steinler rose to the occasion and hit into a double play, Kiddle getting nipped at second. Jackson followed with a single to right, but was stranded by a sacrifice bunt by Wynkoop, and was put out at first.

Sixth reversed its battery with success yesterday. Listerford donning the mask and Wynkoop going into the box. The up-side-down battery worked perfectly with men on the bases.

Ninth and Hamline will battle for honors this afternoon, and both managers are confident of winning. A victory for Hamline will put it in the running.

The Adams team scored four runs in the first stanza on two bases on balls, four errors and a single.

A good contest is on the bill for this afternoon. The Southern Railway and the Adams Express teams met. Harvey will be on the firing line for Adams, while Garrett will try his luck for the Southern.

Hower, who is working his way through Galaudet, is under considerable expense at the hospital and will play again a special collection will be taken for his benefit.

National Union played its reconstructed team yesterday, and it looked better than it has for some time. The new addition, an exceptionally weak at the stick, eight of Engel's strikeouts being made on them.

Engel fanned thirteen, passed two, and allowed four hits. "Bull" Ebert was solved for seven hits, passed three, and fanned twelve in eight innings.

Ebert fanned thirteen in the first, and Engel put the last three men out on National Union via the strike-out route.

"Zip" Clements played a great game for twinning. Out of three times at bat, he got a run, a hit, and stole three bases.

KID GRIFFO NOT A FIGHTER NOW

NEW YORK, July 16.—John, better known as "Kid" Griffio, is one fighter who doesn't wish to "come back." In a night police court he indignantly denied that he was a fighter. "I'm an actor," he declared solemnly.

Griffio got into a dispute with the door keeper of the National Athletic Club, every Friday night. He had consented to "second" one of the "debaters" and went to the "meeting" with a friend, for whom he had no ticket. There were words, and Griffio was "punched." He was fined $2, which he paid.

Smithson was the only man on G. P. O. who put up any kind of ball. He got four hits and felled third in clever style.

Howell was off color in his throwing, nine men stealing on him.

Moore, for G. P. O., had eight chances, and fanned on but one. He got a hit, a run, and stole three bases.

White's fielding in center for the winner was of sensational order. He had three chances, and made the only double of the day by a pretty throw to Bladen.

Yesterday's was Thompson's first game with C. & P., and he acquitted himself well.

He was most effective with the bases occupied, nine men being left on the bases.

Priestly batted consistently for the winners, getting three of the team's seven hits. His thrower made one of the best seen on the field this year.

Another large crowd of enthusiastic fans was disappointed yesterday afternoon when Walford failed to put a full nine on the field and were compelled to wait until the Southeast Club. This is the second game that has been forfeited this week, and rain put a stop to the game between the Southeast Club and the Herald team, which makes only three games that have been played this week.

It was decided at the last meeting of the league to play off postponed games on Saturday afternoon, but there have been no games on this day for a long time. This is a great mistake, as an unusually large bunch turns out at the other leagues, and, therefore, would undoubtedly be on hand for the Saturday games.

It was intended to play off Monday's game between the Southeast Y. M. C. A. and the Herald today. This game has been postponed, and so there will be no game at Kenyon street this afternoon.

YESTERDAY'S RESULT.

Tenleytown, 6; Georgetown, 5.

GROUNDS.

Thirty-fifth and V streets northwest.

Tenleytown took a close game from Georgetown yesterday, 6 to 5. The game was hard fought, and the crowd was rooting so vigorously that the noise could be heard for blocks.

The audience almost roared in the pitcher's box in the eighth. Only Mr. Murphy's "hardness" got them away.

Mr. Murphy is a disciplinarian. The players all tried to bluff him, but were stopped so hard that they soon stopped.

Norris, the Commerce and Labor star twirler, pitched in the last two innings. But one hit was registered off his delivery, and the run tallied was due to his untimely support.

Both twirlers were handicapped by the hot fielding. Only three of the eleven runs were secured by a hit.

Howard, of Georgetown, was the principal error-maker, booting four of his nine chances. He made a good play in the fourth when he bled a wise move, a grounder and caught Stadler at home.

Payne, who pitched the last four innings for the Suburbans, allowed but one hit.

No game.

GROUNDS.

The regularly scheduled game between American Security and the Washington Loan and Trust which was to have been played this afternoon at 3 o'clock was postponed by action of the league officials in a meeting yesterday afternoon.

The reason for this action was that the Washington bank clerks play with the Baltimore bankers in Baltimore this afternoon. It was deemed a wise move to postpone this afternoon's contest. Further action was also taken in the matter of the games played by Riggs at the beginning of the season. All games played by Riggs were thrown out in order to have each bank play the same number of games.

The standing of the banks printed above will be somewhat changed when the secretary gives out the official standing. The teams will not be seriously affected and the measure adopted seems to be fair for all concerned.

Matters which have caused some comment in the past have been settled and just soon and the officials have on foot plans for the league next year which will soon be taken up.

Amalgamated Society Refuses to Join Hands With Brotherhood.

Declaring it has been treated unfairly by the trades department of the American Federation of Labor and by the Central Labor Union of Washington, the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners has formally refused to join the strike of the Brotherhood of Carpenters as ordered by the trades department.

This action was decided upon at a meeting of the society held last night, and the trades department of the A. F. of L. has been notified to that effect and is now considering what action it will take as a means of punishing the society.

W. J. Spencer, secretary of that department, said today that it is likely the Amalgamated Society will be suspended. He said the matter will immediately be placed before the executive council for disposition. In the meantime the Amalgamated Society is not worrying. Its members are satisfied that they have acted fairly in the matter, and that their action will not be regretted by them.

They see no reason why they should break their contracts with the builders and contractors of Washington, and the Brotherhood of Carpenters on their strike, in view of the fact that the employers have agreed to investigate the matter and other demands which are considered particularly advantageous and absolutely within reason.

Said to Have Exceeded Authority. The resolution calling for the society to ignore the trades department's ultimatum was introduced by W. E. Gilmore, business agent of the society. In the strike order of the trades department is declared to be in excess of the authority of the department in question, and contrary to the principles of unionism. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 10 to 2.

The resolution also made that the trades department had no authority to recognize the complaint of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners in Washington, and that the Amalgamated Society endeavored to co-operate with the Brotherhood of Carpenters several months ago, in an attempt to get better working conditions in Washington, and that its offers were ignored, and that, despite this, the Amalgamated Society was forced to join the strike.

This concession consists of forty-four and a half hours a week the year around, beginning February 15, next, with an increase in wages to 56 cents an hour.

In the resolution it is charged that the Brotherhood of Carpenters has been endeavoring to "put the Amalgamated Society out of business," and that the trades department has been endeavoring to "put the Amalgamated Society out of business," and that the trades department has been endeavoring to "put the Amalgamated Society out of business."

The resolution concluded with the statement that the Amalgamated Society is continuing to work on "jobs" supposed to be "struck," and are not being disciplined by the trades department, and with the offer to meet the brotherhood in conference at any time whereby the members may agree to work in harmony.

The movement to bring about a notable aviation exhibition in Washington in October—a cross-country flight preferred—will be started in earnest with a few weeks and their own hands. Dr. Zahn, secretary of the Aero Club of Washington.

Dr. Zahn believes that the time is ripe for a large Washington aeronautical affair, and that if it is held during the middle of October nearly all the foremost aviators of this country and Europe will participate. He based his belief on this respect upon talks he has had with a number of aeronauts and from the fact that the Bennett flights on Long Island will be concluded then.

Dr. Zahn, who attended the flights in Atlantic City, was greatly impressed by the flights over the ocean, and he was anxious to have some flights of that nature in Washington.

Something in the form of exhibition flights along the Potomac river also is being considered by the Aero Club. Dr. Zahn, who attended the flights in Atlantic City, was greatly impressed by the flights over the ocean, and he was anxious to have some flights of that nature in Washington.
